Welcome to Fluency in Spanish!

Fluency in Spanish Step-by-Step contains 180 lists specifically designed to make speaking Spanish come as naturally as possible through Vaughan's unique method of oral translation practice. The teaching point of each list mirrors the structure of our accompanying grammar book Spanish Grammar Step-by-Step where you can find all the most important Spanish grammatical concepts explained simply and concisely. Ideally, use both books together: for example, by studying the explanation of how to use the future simple in Spanish in Step 131 of Spanish Grammar Step-by-Step, and then by subsequently reinforcing your knowledge of this tense by practising the translation lists in Step 131 of this book.

Fluency in Spanish Step-by-Step is the perfect accompaniment to Spanish Grammar Step-by-Step, but both books work well independently too.

To get the most out of this book, we recommend doing the following:

1. Download the audio. It is vital for both your listening comprehension and pronunciation skills.
2. Study one list per day. However, before you start the list, first listen to the audio and repeat the Spanish phrases without looking at the book.
3. Once you have listened to the list, translate the sentences into Spanish first with the text in front of you and then while covering up the right column. Remember to always practise saying each sentence out loud!
4. Constantly review what you have learnt by going back and doing lists at random.
5. Most importantly... Have fun! ¡Pásatelo bien!

A few tricks to boost your learning!

- The audio is not just for you to use when you have the book in front of you. Put it on whilst driving, cooking, walking down the street, or any other time you have free time! Even if you aren't able to pay full attention to what you're listening to, hearing the Spanish almost as background noise will help you get the hang of the pronunciation and the correct intonation of the language.
- Write down any new vocabulary, including expressions and turns of phrase, in a notebook. Be sure to separate the Spanish and its English translation into two columns, so you can cover one to test yourself!
- Give your Spanish a bit of colour! When writing down nouns in your notebook, differentiate them in colours according to their gender. For example, use red for feminine nouns and green for masculine nouns - this visual aid will do wonders for your memory!
